THE HOK® SOLUTION

- Solution for waste gas treatment -

HOK® Activated lignite. Flue gas adsorbent and catalyst. First choice for gas cleaning in metallurgical processes. Substantial reduction of dioxins and furans e.g. in electric steel mills and sintering plants.

Sometimes, a single, well-considered decision is all it takes:
for the benefit of your company, for the good of the environment.

Preface

The supply contacts of the steel industry are frontierless. This powerful market is always in process. The KEY to Steel Industry Suppliers will be circulated among top and middle management in the steel producing and processing industries.

The main regions of circulation are Asia, Africa, America, certain newly industrialized countries, and the member states of the European Union.

This KEY will be shown on www.stahleisen.de as well.
